The December 12, 2018, Hearing Application Amendments & Exhibits policy required operators to continue applications they chose to amend prior to, or during the hearing. This policy was enacted to provide commission staff adequate time to republish applications and prepare the dockets for hearing. The amended application was then placed on the hearing schedule based on the hearing schedule deadlines for when the amendment was filed.

This 2nd Hearing Application Amendments & Exhibits policy changes the new date for hearing after an amendment has been made. All amendments submitted to the Commission will now be continued to earliest month the Commission can get matters published in accordance with its rules and regulations. This will allow operators to proceed with an amended application within one to two months of submitting the amendment. Applicants will still be assessed a continuance fee and are required to provide a new affidavit of mailing.
